

Sunspot Concerts at the Lyceum

Red Molly

Friday, Sept. 17, 2010, 8 PM

$20 advance/$23 door

On a July evening in 2004, at their campsite at the Falcon Ridge Folk Festival, the three women who would become Red Molly harmonized for the very first time. As they sang their campmates off to sleep, they knew they had stumbled into something extraordinary. Audiences seem to agree. Since that summer night, Red Molly has consistently brought concertgoers to their feet with stunning three-part harmonies, crisp musicianship and a warm, engaging stage presence. Laurie MacAllister, Abbie Gardner and newest member Molly Venter have a lot of fun on stage, and it's contagious.

Red Molly's Sunspot show will be one of the first Red Molly shows with Molly, who will be joining Laurie MacAllister and Abbie Gardner as Carolann Solebello leaves the group.

The Boston Globe says: "Everything Red Molly sings is delivered with tick-tight arrangements, crystalline vocals, and caramel harmonies. But what is most striking is the ardor they bring to everything they do, whether snuggling into the sweet parochialism of an old spiritual, or the gritty pathos of a Gillian Welch tune. They come on less like stars strutting for their minions than pals sharing their favorite songs." www.redmolly.com

Sunday, Aug. 29. Join Danny Knicely, Nate Leath, Aimee Curl and Bert Carlson for the release of their new CD, The Melody Lingers On, at the Old Stone School in Hillsboro, Virginia. Tickets available on the Sunspot website.

Coming in November: Scottish singer Jim Malcolm returns.

The Lyceum, 201 South Washington St, Alexandria, VA
Tickets available at www.sunspotpro.com

Join Sunspot online at www.myspace.com/sunspotpro and on Facebook www.groups.to/sunspotconcerts